Passage القطعة

I. Read the following passage, then choose the correct answer:

Have you ever wished that you were taller? Or that your eyes were a different colour? These things are decided by our DNA before we're born so we can't change them. Or can we?

DNA is a code in every living cell of our bodies. Over 99% of the DNA of all humans is the same, but the tiny differences make us who we are. Before a baby is born, when it's still an embryo, its DNA already contains information about hair colour, future health and much more.

Scientists can look at the DNA of an embryo and see whether it is likely to have certain diseases when it grows up. At the moment, this is all they do. However, it's possible that in the future scientists could change the DNA to "delete" those diseases so that the person will never get sick. But if we start changing babies' DNA to stop certain diseases, what's to stop us changing other things, too? Some scientists think they can alter an unborn baby's DNA to make sure it grows up to be good at sport, or very clever, or even change the way it will look.

There is where the term "designer babies" comes from; it's the idea that we can choose what our babies will look like and what kind of abilities they will have. A lot of people think that this is wrong, and others are worried about the consequences of changing human DNA. After all, no one has ever done it before so it might create more problems than it solves.

Choose the correct answer from a, b, c or d

1. The best title to the passage is.....
   - Ⓐ Human Cells.
   - Ⓑ Future medicine.
   - Ⓒ Designer Babies.
   - Ⓓ Modifying DNA.
2. How does the writer feel about altering human DNA? The tone of the passage is.....
   - Ⓐ excited
   - Ⓑ cautious

   - Ⓐ remove diseases from an embryo.
   - Ⓑ change a person's DNA to cure an illness.
   - Ⓒ change the DNA of unborn babies.
   - Ⓓ find the DNA that causes some diseases.

2. Read the following passage, then choose the correct answer

The advantage of technology for most people who use it is that they can message and chat with friends. Another advantage, for the lucky few, is that they could become a celebrity by creating a website. Many people use social media to connect with others, but technology also benefits the wider community, especially in healthcare. Advanced test equipment provides more efficient feedback to patients. Before modern testing methods became available, patients had waited longer for results to arrive, the consequences of which was delayed treatment that harmed their chance of a full recovery. Nowadays, treatments are not delayed for long. Samples can be analysed immediately after they are taken and the results are sent by e-mail cutting waiting time dramatically. As far as healthcare professionals are concerned, fast responding equipment is essential.

The benefit of using the internet to research symptoms is that it is a quick way of avoiding unnecessary doctor visits, provided that you think about the information you read carefully. Panic might be felt as a consequence of a minor illness being mistaken for those of a more serious one. If you take care using the internet to find treatments for general aches and pains is easy and fast. It's going to be unnecessary to visit the doctor with minor health issues in the future due to online assistance. Overall, health benefits are going to increase even more as new technology is developed.

Choose the correct answer from a, b, c or d

1. According to the passage, the internet has made the world a .....
   - Ⓐ global village
   - Ⓑ virtual city
   - Ⓒ medical society
   - Ⓓ a narrow street
2. Which one is a common usage to the internet?
   - Ⓐ Hacking
   - Ⓑ Creating websites
   - Ⓒ Chatting
   - Ⓓ Analyzing tests
3. According to the passage, patients may suffer delay recovery for not getting.....
   - Ⓐ for a time
   - Ⓑ beforehand
   - Ⓒ by the time
   - Ⓓ at the proper time
4. The more technology is developed, ...health benefits will increase.
   - Ⓐ the less
   - Ⓑ the fewest
   - Ⓒ the more
   - Ⓓ the most
5. What is the suitable title for this passage?
   - Ⓐ Using the Internet
   - Ⓑ Changes to Healthcare
   - Ⓒ Advances in Medical Treatments
   - Ⓓ Health benefits of the internet
6. We infer that..... is necessary in critical medical cases.
   - Ⓐ fast responding
   - Ⓑ research symptom
   - Ⓒ online assistance
   - Ⓓ delayed treatment
7. The main purpose of the passage is to.....
   - Ⓐ argue the problem of patients' waiting lists
   - Ⓑ encourage medical research
   - Ⓒ find treatments for general aches
   - Ⓓ discuss the benefits of using technology to healthcare
8. According to the passage, which one is CORRECT?
   - Ⓐ We can only depend on online consultations.
   - Ⓑ We needn't visit a doctor for minor illnesses
   - Ⓒ We don't have to visit doctors any more.
   - Ⓓ patients with serious diseases can get remedies online

3. Read the following passage, then choose the correct answer

Every day there is less and less space on Earth for trash to be buried. Yet, every day we make more and more trash and waste that has negative effect on the natural environment. What can we do? We can recycle some of our trash. Recycling means that the trash will be made into something new and useful that can be used again and again. Recycling helps the Earth in many ways. It saves space in trash dumps where trash is collected to be burnt. Half of everything that we put into dumps could be recycled instead of throwing it. In fact, most things which are made of paper, metal, aluminum, glass and plastic can be recycled. It also reduces pollution.

Paper can be grouped up and made into new paper. Steel and aluminum cans can be melted down and made into new cans. The same is true about glass bottles. This can be done over and over again. Recycling doesn't take as much energy as making these things the first time. So, by recycling we can use less of the Earth's fuel resources. It also helps save our natural resources such as wood and metals.

Plastic can be melted down, too. Then, it can be formed into park benches or furniture. Some people call plastic the wood of the future. Things made of plastic will last about 400 years even when they are outside in harsh weather. No wood can do that.

Choose the correct answer from a, b, c or d

1. What is the main idea of last paragraph?
   - Ⓐ What recycling is.
   - Ⓑ How to save the future.
   - Ⓒ Why plastic is important.
   - Ⓓ How to recycle different things.
2. Plastic is called the wood of the future because..... .
   - Ⓐ it's a natural material.
   - Ⓑ it is strong and beautiful.
   - Ⓒ it helps save money.
   - Ⓓ it can be made into furniture.
3. According to the writer, wood is..... plastic.
   - Ⓐ less durable than
   - Ⓑ more durable than
   - Ⓒ as durable as
   - Ⓓ the most durable of
4. Which material can you find in your house that can be recycled?
   - Ⓐ water
   - Ⓑ energy
   - Ⓒ rice
   - Ⓓ Cardboard
5. A synonym for the underlined word "reduces" is.....
   - Ⓐ lowers
   - Ⓑ helps
   - Ⓒ uses
   - Ⓓ improves
6. The underlined word "it" refers to.....
   - Ⓐ fuel
   - Ⓑ time
   - Ⓒ energy
   - Ⓓ recycling
7. The purpose of the writer is to tell us that .....
   - Ⓐ All materials on earth are useful.
   - Ⓑ Planting trees helps in recycling.
   - Ⓒ Recycling is a good way to use trash.
   - Ⓓ Steel and aluminum can be recycled easily.
8. According to the text, one of the following statements is NOT TRUE .....
   - Ⓐ All trash and waste can be recycled.
   - Ⓑ Harsh weather doesn't affect plastic.
   - Ⓒ It's difficult to find space for trash.
   - Ⓓ Glass and metal can be recycled many times.

4. Read the following passage, then choose the correct answer

'Lifelong learning' refers to studies or courses that people choose to participate in when they're no longer at the age of school or university. The idea behind 'lifelong learning' is that gaining new knowledge and developing new skills is an ongoing journey and not just something that we do while we're at school to gain specific academic qualifications. Therefore, a lot of lifelong learning is a matter of learning something for pleasure.

Often lifelong learning has a more practical purpose for the people who participate in it as it can help improve your career prospects and also increase your income. Similarly, the social and emotional advantages of lifelong learning shouldn't be overlooked. If you're feeling lonely, learning in a group can help reduce those feelings. Another advantage of lifelong learning is that you can do it whenever and wherever you are as you can learn from books you can borrow from the library or just have a go at painting a picture and then think of what you could improve to do it a little better the next time.

However, people are able to learn, a great sense of achievement can be gained from setting goals, such as being able to speak a foreign language, and then being able to achieve that goal. The effect of achieving goals like these is to help us feel more content.

Choose the correct answer from a, b, c or d

1. "Lifelong learning" could be .....
   - Ⓐ a new subject in the future.
   - Ⓑ for getting qualifications
   - Ⓒ an ongoing journey
   - Ⓓ with limited resources
2. "Emotional" is an antonym for ".....".
   - Ⓐ terrific
   - Ⓑ social
   - Ⓒ dispassionate
   - Ⓓ thoughtful
3. According to the passage, when you achieve your goals you feel.....
   - Ⓐ frustrated
   - Ⓑ fluent
   - Ⓒ grumpy
   - Ⓓ satisfied
4. The underlined word "gaining" means ".....".
   - Ⓐ buying
   - Ⓑ acquiring
   - Ⓒ beating
   - Ⓓ giving
5. The practical purpose of lifelong learning is that .....
   - Ⓐ it has an emotional aspect.
   - Ⓑ it can help to reduce bad feelings.
   - Ⓒ it benefits your career and increases your income.
   - Ⓓ it helps you get a certified certificate.
6. According to the passage, which doesn't belong to "lifelong learning"?
   - Ⓐ It helps improve your career prospects and increase your income.
   - Ⓑ It helps you get more knowledge and develop new skills.
   - Ⓒ It is the same as academic learning in all aspects.
   - Ⓓ It could reduce the feeling of loneliness or isolation.
7. "Lifelong learning" is .....
   - Ⓐ a type of regular academic learning.
   - Ⓑ for people who are no longer at the age of normal school learning.
   - Ⓒ a type of private schooling with a fixed curriculum.
   - Ⓓ a kind of education that depends on formal governmental assessment.
8. What is the main idea of the first paragraph?
   - Ⓐ Lifelong learning is not available for all people of different ages.
   - Ⓑ Lifelong learning is learning something away from pleasure or enjoyment.
   - Ⓒ Lifelong learning with no academic qualifications helps a graduate with academic degree.
   - Ⓓ Lifelong learning is a process of acquiring new knowledge and developing new skills inside school with academic qualifications.

5. Read the following passage, then choose the correct answer

Brainstorming is an activity that most of us think we're very familiar with and know how to do. Brainstorming can help us to generate innovative ideas at school or work, however, it can be a waste of time. If you want the time, you spend brainstorming to be productive, you need to brainstorm effectively.

Brainstorming didn't come into existence until 1948. It was based around a military analogy with the idea that the participants in the brainstorming sessions were storming or attacking a problem to solve it. At that time, the rules of brainstorming were that you didn't give other participants any negative feedback on their ideas, instead you tried to build on other people's ideas with your own thoughts. The aim was to generate as many ideas as possible.

To make brainstorming sessions effective, it's helpful for individual participants to think of their own ideas first. This could be done by giving each person some prompts to help them come up with ideas that they then write down. You could also ask participants to do some word association by giving them a word and asking them to write other words that come to mind when they think of that word, and then other words connected to those words, and so on. If the participants have already focused on the topic and come up with ideas beforehand, these ideas should be more fully formed and useful and less time will be wasted on this initial stage during the group discussion.

Choose the correct answer from a, b, c or d

1. Brainstorming can be a waste of time if.....
   - Ⓐ you ignore its value.
   - Ⓑ you give it a lot of thought.
   - Ⓒ you don't like creation.
   - Ⓓ you need that time to do a productive task.
2. We can give each person some prompts to .....
   - Ⓐ help them create new ideas
   - Ⓑ reach a solution on their own
   - Ⓒ criticise other participants
   - Ⓓ replace the new ideas.
3. The main idea in the second paragraph is .....
   - Ⓐ The future of brainstorming.
   - Ⓑ How brainstorming was in the past.
   - Ⓒ The meaning of brainstorming.
   - Ⓓ The importance of brainstorming.
4. The underlined word "Innovative" is similar in meaning to ".....".
   - Ⓐ unimaginative
   - Ⓑ normal
   - Ⓒ creative
   - Ⓓ ordinary
5. Initially, the participants in the brainstorming sessions were .....
   - Ⓐ attacking each other
   - Ⓑ giving opposite opinions
   - Ⓒ ignoring the rules of participation
   - Ⓓ storming or attacking a problem to reach a solution
6. At first, the rules of brainstorming were that you .....
   - Ⓐ could criticise other participants
   - Ⓑ were free to express your opinion
   - Ⓒ could give other participants any negative feedback
   - Ⓓ didn't give other participants any destructive feedback
7. What is the main idea of the passage?
   - Ⓐ Brainstorming didn't come into existence until 1948.
   - Ⓑ The value of brainstorming.
   - Ⓒ Brainstorming was first used in the military field.
   - Ⓓ Brainstorming is useful for students in all cases.
8. The underlined word "This" refers to .....
   - Ⓐ making brainstorming useful for individuals.
   - Ⓑ avoiding the harm of brainstorming.
   - Ⓒ thinking of the ideas of other participants first.
   - Ⓓ discussing the ideas of other participants.

6. Read the following passage, then choose the correct answer

Music influences people in different ways or the same person differently at different times. Music may seem to influence people differently. That is because people can react differently to the music. We are able to apply a choosing process to the music we hear. If someone hates jazz, then a jazz piece with a positive effect will probably not make him feel good. A happy song might appear to make an angry person angrier, yet it is not the music itself that is creating the anger; rather it is the positive effect of the music. The angry person does not want to accept the song's happy feeling; it points out his already existing anger, and makes that anger come to the surface. When a piece of music is played and we are listening to it, our body, mind, and feelings are being affected. The musicians of ancient cultures such as China, India, Turkey and Greece understood the effects of music. In fact, Pythagoras, in ancient Greece, introduced a whole science that concerned them. Because the musicians of these ancient cultures understood these effects, they created music that was positive, uplifting, and beneficial. Once the effects of music are better understood, the next step is to gain a better understanding of the music around us, and what effect it is actually having.

Choose the correct answer from a, b, c or d

1. The main idea of the passage is .....
   - Ⓐ The science of music
   - Ⓑ The effects of music on human feelings
   - Ⓒ Understanding music
   - Ⓓ Music and an angry person
2. According to the passage, music .....
   - Ⓐ cannot be chosen
   - Ⓑ affects everybody in the same way
   - Ⓒ affects us in different ways
   - Ⓓ never makes us angry
3. Hearing a happy song may make an angry person angrier .....
   - Ⓐ since it is creating the anger.
   - Ⓑ as the angry person hates being angry.
   - Ⓒ for restoring sad memories.
   - Ⓓ due to the positive effect of the music.
4. Where can music be of great importance?
   - Ⓐ Supporting your team at a stadium
   - Ⓑ inside an operation theater
   - Ⓒ If someone wants to sleep
   - Ⓓ burying a dead person.
5. From the passage we infer that music .....
   - Ⓐ developed in local communities
   - Ⓑ is a world language
   - Ⓒ is heard on certain occasions
   - Ⓓ has no effect on us
6. In ancient cultures, there used to be a science that concerned the effects of music in .....
   - Ⓐ China
   - Ⓑ India
   - Ⓒ Turkey
   - Ⓓ Greece
7. The word "Once" is synonym to .....
   - Ⓐ on time
   - Ⓑ when
   - Ⓒ because
   - Ⓓ if
8. Which of the following is true?
   - Ⓐ Everybody likes jazz
   - Ⓑ No one likes jazz
   - Ⓒ Jazz always makes us feel better
   - Ⓓ A very angry person sometimes do not accept music

7. Read the following passage, then choose the correct answer

One of the world's great educators, who looked up to a child as an individual and a very special human being, was Maria Montessori. She gave the very young children the Kindergarten, where children grew in an atmosphere of freedom and confidence. Maria Montessori was born in Italy, in 1870. As a little girl, she was a dull student, unable to grasp and retain what her teacher taught her.

At the age of 10, she suddenly changed. Maria began topping her class, and her parents felt that she should become a teacher. At the age of 14, she attended a technical school for boys. After a year she took up biology and dedicated to studying medicine. In spite of strong opposition from her father, she went ahead with medicine.

Maria became the first Italian woman to receive a medical degree after she graduated from the University of Rome in 1896. After getting her degree, she joined the university's psychiatric clinic. As a part of her duty, she had to visit the city's mental asylum, where disabled children were housed with the insane. She watched the children shriek, stretching their hands out, with an urge to reach out or to touch something. Maria felt they needed a normal and friendlier environment and contact with the world. She worked out ways by which she could help the disabled children.

Choose the correct answer from a, b, c or d

1. Maria's parents wanted her to be a teacher because.....
   - Ⓐ She was intelligent
   - Ⓑ She also wanted to be a teacher
   - Ⓒ She topped her class

   - Ⓐ girls are as intelligent as boys
   - Ⓑ A woman who loved children.
   - Ⓒ A great woman who looked at children with kindness.
   - Ⓓ Maria Montessori for whom children were special.
8. According to the passage, Maria's parents were .....
   - Ⓐ in favour of her decision to study medicine.
   - Ⓑ against her desire to study medicine.
   - Ⓒ for her decision at first before they changed their decision.
   - Ⓓ welcoming her decision to study medicine.

8. Read the following passage, then choose the correct answer

For years video games have been criticised for making people more antisocial, overweight or depressed. But now researchers are finding that games can actually change us for the better and improve both our body and mind.

Games can help to develop physical skills. Pre-school children who played interactive games have been shown to have improved motor skills, for example they can kick, catch and throw a ball better than children who don't play video games. Games also benefit a variety of brain functions, including decision-making. People who play action-based games make decisions 25 percent faster than others and are no less accurate.

There is also evidence that gaming can help with psychological problems. At the University of Auckland in New Zealand, researchers asked 94 young people diagnosed with depression to play a 3D fantasy game and in many cases, the game reduced symptoms of depression more than conventional treatment.

The effects are not always so positive. Researchers carried out brain scans on young men and found that violent games can alter brain function after as little as a week of play, affecting regions in the brain associated with emotional control and causing more aggressive behaviour in the player. But another experienced researcher says that the violent action games that often worry parents most may have the strongest beneficial effect on the brain. In the future, we may see many treatments for physical and neurological problems which incorporate the playing of video games.

Choose the correct answer from a, b, c or d

1. Unlike the common belief, the passage says that video games .....
   - Ⓐ have bad impacts on children.
   - Ⓑ are good for you!
   - Ⓒ are damaging to the brain.
   - Ⓓ lead to symptoms of depression.
2. Very young children show improved ..... after playing video games.
   - Ⓐ muscle control and co-ordination.
   - Ⓑ social interaction.
   - Ⓒ ability to differentiate between different colours
   - Ⓓ decision-making.
3. Video gamers' decision-making speed is significantly improved by .....
   - Ⓐ years of gaming experience.
   - Ⓑ long periods of game playing.
   - Ⓒ playing video games in short bursts.
   - Ⓓ certain types of video game.
4. The underlined word "aggressive" is antonymous with .....
   - Ⓐ hostile
   - Ⓑ generous
   - Ⓒ peaceful
   - Ⓓ violent
5. Only recently people have realized .....
   - Ⓐ the harmful effects of video games.
   - Ⓑ the beneficial effects of video games.
   - Ⓒ how much video games affect the people that play them.
   - Ⓓ None of the above.
6. Research shows that violent video games .....
   - Ⓐ have no negative effects on players.
   - Ⓑ only affect players' brains after extended hours of play.
   - Ⓒ may have positive and negative effects on the brain.
   - Ⓓ only affect players' brains in beneficial ways.
7. In the future, computer games may be used for .....
   - Ⓐ treating a variety of medical problems.
   - Ⓑ training doctors to deal with emotional pressure.
   - Ⓒ helping parents to deal with difficult teenagers.
   - Ⓓ treating prisoners with a history of violent behaviour.
8. Playing video games improves the speed at which people can .....
   - Ⓐ be recovered from illness
   - Ⓑ make correct decisions
   - Ⓒ reach the next level
   - Ⓓ arrive at their destination

9. Read the following passage, then choose the correct answer

Cars can be killing machines, and so we must do everything possible to improve driving. It is sensible to look around the world for good ideas, and a useful place to look is Britain. Road transport in Britain fails in many ways. With nearly one car for every two people, there are traffic jams everywhere. However, road safety is a real success story. While the number of vehicles is rising, the numbers of deaths and injuries are falling steadily. The UK figure of six road deaths per year per 100,000 people is still too high. However, it compares well with 8 per 100,000 in Germany, 13 in France, and 14 in America.

To reach this point has not been easy. It has required a lot of work, money and commitment not only from the government and police, but also from ordinary drivers. Most have accepted pressures to change, and they have decided it is time to drive more carefully, the pressures are many. First, there is the tough driving test, which has both theory and practical sections. Young people can drive at 17 but often fail the test once, twice, three times or more. So new drivers don't get on the road until they are safe drivers. There are direct ways of controlling speed. These include speed bumps across the road and speed cameras that photograph vehicles and measure their speed. Drivers over the speed limit receive large fines. Some of the controls cause harm and anger. Speed bumps can damage cars and cause unnecessary delays.

Choose the correct answer from a, b, c or d

1. The most suitable title to the passage could be .....
   - Ⓐ Traffic jam.
   - Ⓑ A good model of road safety.
   - Ⓒ Overpopulation problem.
   - Ⓓ How to be a good driver.
2. The number of cars in Britain is ..... the number of people.
   - Ⓐ less than Ⓑ more than Ⓒ as many as Ⓓ much than
3. According to the passage, the highest number of road deaths is in .....
   - Ⓐ England Ⓑ America Ⓒ Germany Ⓓ France
4. The number of deaths and injuries in Britain is .....
   - Ⓐ increasing Ⓑ rising Ⓒ fixed Ⓓ falling
5. The underlined word "tough" is closest in meaning to .....
   - Ⓐ hard Ⓑ pleasant Ⓒ serious Ⓓ relaxing
6. The underlined pronoun "they" refers to .....
   - Ⓐ cars Ⓑ the police Ⓒ ordinary drivers Ⓓ the government
7. Drivers have to pay ..... in case of exceeding the speed limit.
   - Ⓐ a driving test Ⓑ the fair Ⓒ a ticket Ⓓ a fine
8. We deduce that speed bumps .....
   - Ⓐ have advantages and disadvantages
   - Ⓑ cause pollution
   - Ⓒ have disadvantages only
   - Ⓓ have advantages only

10. Read the following passage, then choose the correct answer

Study has shown that the physically unfit person is unable to withstand fatigue for longer periods than the fit one; he is better equipped to tolerate physical stress and has stronger and more efficient heart. There is a relationship between good mental alertness, absence of tension and physical fitness.

One way of being fit is through weight control. The major purpose of weight control is to reduce the amount of fat and to increase the amount of muscle. This control can be made only by coupling a sensible dietary programme with a regular balanced programme of exercise.

When we eat, the food is used, stored or discarded. The body stored fuel or calories as fat. The more fuel we consume and the less of it we use, then the more of it stored in the body in the form of fat.

When you exercise, you burn calories. As muscle is slightly heavier than fat, you may very well notice an increase in your weight rather than a reduction. However, it must be stressed that this muscle weight is useful weight and will improve the way you look and feel.

Research has shown clearly that the most effective way of taking off weight and keeping it off is through a programme which combines diet and exercise.

Choose the correct answer from a, b, c or d

1. What is the main idea of the passage?
   - Ⓐ problems of fitness.
   - Ⓑ the best dietary programmes.
   - Ⓒ killing off fatigue.
   - Ⓓ dieting and sports are keys to good health.
2. The most suitable title for the passage could be .....
   - Ⓐ Causes of stress.
   - Ⓑ How to stay healthy.
   - Ⓒ The value of sport.
   - Ⓓ Obesity problem.
3. The more muscle weight your body gets, the ..... it becomes.
   - Ⓐ healthier
   - Ⓑ heavier
   - Ⓒ powerful
   - Ⓓ lighter
4. The underlined word "withstand" can be replaced by .....
   - Ⓐ fight
   - Ⓑ stand up
   - Ⓒ endure
   - Ⓓ give up
5. Where do you think the more food we eat goes to?
   - Ⓐ The body turns it into rich blood.
   - Ⓑ The body accumulates it as fat.
   - Ⓒ The body uses it to balance energy loss.
   - Ⓓ The body burns it during the winter months.
6. In paragraph TWO, the author's advice to us is .....
   - Ⓐ Regular exercises keeps you fit.
   - Ⓑ Overweight is sometimes needed.
   - Ⓒ Eating the right amounts of food is better.
   - Ⓓ Dieting and exercise must go along.
7. Which of the following sentences is correct?
   - Ⓐ like camels, our bodies store the more calories as fat.
   - Ⓑ Our bodies burn the surplus calories like any car tank.
   - Ⓒ fat weight is heavier than muscle weight.
   - Ⓓ It is easier to lose weight than to gain it.
8. Which of the following sentences is untrue?
   - Ⓐ A fit person can bear fatigue for longer periods.
   - Ⓑ We must worry about the muscle weight as it's unhealthy.
   - Ⓒ It is better to increase muscle weight more than fat weight.
   - Ⓓ The program which combines diet and exercise is useful for our bodies.

II. Read the following passage, then choose the correct answer

Most species of animals have the ability to communicate using forms of language that don't require words or speech. Dogs show their teeth in order to scare other animals. When a cat's hair stands straight up, it is usually frightened or angry. The language of the honeybee is much more specific. When the worker bee discovers a food source, it shares the smell of the food and performs a series of dance-like movements. Worker bees can tell the other bees what type of food is available, the direction in which the food source can be found and how far away it is.

When a bee that has been out looking for food returns to the group, it performs one of two dances. If the food source is nearby (within 50 to 75 metres), it does a 'round' dance. This involves running in a small circle to the left first, and then back to the right. The bee repeats this pattern several times. When the food source is farther than 75 metres away, the bee does what is called a 'waggle' dance. This dance has two parts. First the bee runs straight ahead towards the food source while it 'waggles', or moves its back end. Then, it returns to the starting point and repeats the 'waggle' dance. The length of the waggle portion of the dance tells the other bees how far away the food is.

Choose the correct answer from a, b, c or d

1. Most species of animals .....

   - Ⓒ how far away it is.
   - Ⓓ All the above.

12. Read the following passage, then choose the correct answer

Can social media impact day to day communication? If so, does it improve it or stall it? Studies have shown that we polish our communication skills when we chat online using various social media sites. We decide who gets to talk to us and who doesn't. We are in control of every piece of information that we wish to share and we can create the image that we want.

We can simulate a face-to-face conversation quite easily, since we can use a webcam and a microphone. If we have a shy personality, we can easily overcome that by practicing our conversational skills until we reach a point where we feel a bit more confident about ourselves.

Social media websites not only enrich the dialogues with people; we can also get in touch with our distance friends. We can also get other people informed about noble causes or online projects that will help them. We can also promote our business with much more success, if we know how to properly promote our products or services on social media, so as to get people to talk about them.

Using social media websites is a good way of expressing yourself or revealing a part of your personality. As long as we do not forget that online communication is not enough and cannot be a real substitute for face-to-face human contact, social media can indeed improve the way we communicate.

Choose the correct answer from a, b, c or d

1. The central idea of the passage is .....
   - Ⓐ Successful relationships.
   - Ⓑ The art of conversation
   - Ⓒ Communication technology.

   - Ⓓ The importance of face to face contact
8. Which of the following summarizes the first paragraph?
   - Ⓐ Don't share your personal information online.
   - Ⓑ All of us chat online instead of using mobiles.
   - Ⓒ People don't appear on social media as in reality.
   - Ⓓ Social media are part and parcel of our daily communications.

13. Read the following passage, then choose the correct answer

The first people to wear jeans were sailors in the 16th century. Sailors had to do hard work outside in bad weather. They needed something strong against wear and tear. Their clothes had to last longer and stay in good condition. They found this type of cloth during their trip to India. It was made of thick cotton called dungaree.

The first jeans were made in Genoa, a city in Italy. In the 16th century, Genoa decided to make better pants for their sailors. They used the dungaree cloth because it was sturdy and strong. The new pants were called 'geanos' or 'jeanos'. Sailors could use it in both wet and dry weather. To clean the pants, they put them inside a net, threw it in the ocean and dragged the net behind the ship. This is when they realized their color changes to white. This is how bleached jeans were invented.

French workers also made jeans. They used a different type of cloth called denim. But it was also sturdy and dyed blue, like the 'jeanos'. In 1872, there was a small cloth merchant in Germany. His name was Levi Strauss. He bought and sold denim from France but Levi Strauss got into trouble and had to go away to America where he learned how to sew. When he moved to San Francisco, he met many gold diggers. Levi started to cut pants out of denim. He sold these jeans to the gold diggers, and they loved them. Soon all factory workers and farmers were wearing jeans too. They were comfortable and easy to take care of and cheap. Jeans were considered the uniform of youth. You had to wear jeans to be in style.

14. Read the following passage, then choose the correct answer

The next time you take printouts unnecessarily or you throw a paper into the bin, think for a minute as to how many trees have been felled to manufacture something you use so often every day.

Can you take out some time from your everyday routine and devote it to starting a simple recycling programme at your school or your neighbourhood? Not only would you save our planet, but you would also reduce generation and dumping of waste into the environment.

Using recycled paper conserves natural resources. As our worldwide population grows, the strain on these resources becomes even greater. You can reduce the number of trees cut down for manufacturing paper. In addition to saving landfill space, there is a reduction in air pollution.

A paper-recycling programme gives a positive image. Parents can teach their children the importance of recycling. Schools can also train students to make paper products like: cards, files, folders, invitation cards and certificates. The real success of such programmes is visible in the simple acts like students exchanging books. This is amazing that only a single sheet is saved by each child, 40,000 trees could be saved per year by students only.

If we keep our minds focused on the desire to be friendly to our earth and its resources, recycling will become important. After a while, we will be in the habit of recycling the paper.

Choose the correct answer from a, b, c or d

   - Ⓑ trees are cut down to manufacture paper.
   - Ⓒ waste paper is turned into new paper products.

15. Read the following passage, then choose the correct answer

How can you best improve your English depends particularly on whether or not you live in an English-speaking community. If you hear English spoken every day and mix freely with English speaking people, that is an advantage. On the other hand, it is often confusing to have the whole language poured over you at once. Ideally, a step-by-step course should accompany or lead up to this experience. It will also help a great deal if you can easily get the sort of English books in which you are interested.

To read a lot is essential. Read as many books in English as you can, not as study but for pleasure. Do not choose the most difficult books you find with the idea of listing and learning as many new words as possible. Choose what is likely to interest you and be sure in advance that it is not too hard. You should not have to be constantly looking up new words in the dictionary, for that deadens interest and checks real learning. Look up a word here and there but as a general policy try to guess what words mean from the context. You should enjoy the feeling which reading gives of having some command of the language. As you read, you will become more and more familiar with words and sentence patterns you already know; understanding them better and better as you meet them in more and more contexts, some of which may differ only slightly from others.

Choose the correct answer from a, b, c or d

1. The central idea of this passage can be.....
   - Ⓐ How to keep new words.
   - Ⓑ The pros and cons of reading English.

   - Ⓐ using step-by-step method.
   - Ⓑ reading the most difficult books.
   - Ⓒ having the whole at once.
   - Ⓓ looking up every new word.

16. Read the following passage, then choose the correct answer

We all know that money is necessary, since we need it to pay for our food, clothes, houses and for many other various purposes. Of course, this does not mean that money is the only important thing in life, and the only source of happiness. What will the use of money be if it is spent unwisely and carelessly? Naturally, money which is ill-spent brings no real happiness or pleasure to us. So to enjoy life we must have two things other than riches, namely health and wisdom.

Health is a splendid treasure that completes our happiness. We cannot really enjoy life if we are not healthy, however wealthy we may be. How proud we feel when we possess sound bodies that enable us to work hard to earn a living or to bear the roughest circumstances in life or to practise a certain favourite game that brings us great joy. If we are strong, we shall live to an old age and enjoy life fully. On the other hand, if we are unhealthy and weak, we shall never be able to pursue our pleasures, and life will mean nothing except pain, suffering and sadness. So both money and health are necessary.

Last of all comes wisdom. If we are foolish, we shall never be really happy, however rich or healthy we may be. Wise people are very careful with their money and health, whereas foolish people soon waste their money or ruin their health. It is our mind that raises us above the rank of animals. So, we should use it to secure happiness.

17. Read the following passage, then choose the correct answer

Mona doesn't like to ask people for help. But it is hard for her to perform daily activities on her own. She is almost 13, yet she is no larger than a 5-year-old. Mona has trouble keeping her balance and can't walk very far. When she uses a wheelchair, she can't push it herself.

Fortunately, Mona has a wonderful service dog named Toby. A service dog is a dog that has been trained to assist someone who has a physical problem. Toby lets Mona lean on him when she walks. He also pulls her wheelchair and turns lights on and off. When Mona drops something, Toby picks it up. He even pulls her socks off at night.

Toby also helps Mona with everyday tasks at school. He carries her books from class to class in a special backpack. He puts Mona's completed assignments in her teachers' homework trays. In the lunchroom he throws away her trash.

Besides making Mona less dependent on other people, Toby helps her lead a fuller life. Mona's classmates flock around Toby like geese. This has helped her make friends. Toby also helps Mona be more active. With his aid, she raised over $500 in a walk-a-thon for her local humane society.

18. Read the following passage, then choose the correct answer

I know what food does to my body, but what does it do to the environment around us? It's time to think how different kinds of food use up our earth's resources.

Firstly, labels give lots of valuable information: how long we can keep our food, how many calories it has and where it comes from. A few hundred years ago, most of our food came from places we could walk to, but today food travels thousands of miles. We refrigerate it, then transport it in planes and ships all over the world. This creates pollution and causes global warming. I look at the slices of pizza and immediately feel guilty - not because it's unhealthy, but because the prawns on it are from Thailand. Moreover, in the USA making burgers from cows creates the same amount of greenhouse gases as 20 million cars!

Next, in the UK, They don't recycle all their packaging. They throw away more than 30% of it. This waste goes to the rubbish dump and not to the recycling centre. Luckily, they don't need to package food like bananas, but food like grapes needs protection. So, I should make a checklist for my next trip to the supermarket. First, read the label. Next, look at the packaging and third, don't buy a lot of meat. Maybe I could grow my own vegetables, too. It's eco-friendly. I would save some money and I wouldn't feel guilty about eating burgers.

Choose the correct answer from a, b, c or d

   - Ⓑ they help the environment.
   - Ⓒ they give us information about the product.
   - Ⓓ We know the origin of the food.

19. Read the following passage, then choose the correct answer

A cup of tea is a vital part of daily life for the majority of people around the world - in fact tea is so integral to our routine, that it is difficult to imagine life without it! But it was not always so; tea was once a luxury product that only the rich could afford and at one time was even believed to be bad for your health. It was over the course of several hundred years that tea gained its place as our national drink, and only relatively recently that its potential health benefits have been recognised.

Tea first became established in Britain through the influence of a foreign princess, Catherine of Braganza, the wife of King Charles II. A lover of tea since her childhood in Portugal, she brought tea-drinking to the English court, and set a trend for the beverage among the aristocracy of England in the seventeenth century. The fashion soon spread to the middle classes, and it became a popular drink at the London coffee houses where wealthy men met to do business and discuss the events of the day.

Some coffee houses sold tea in loose leaf form so that it could be made at home. This meant that it could also be enjoyed by women, who were not welcome visitors to coffee houses. As it was relatively expensive, tea drinking in the home was largely confined to wealthier households, where women would gather for tea parties.

There is a famous expression in English: "Stop the world, I want to get off!" This expression refers to a feeling of panic or stress that makes a person want to stop whatever they are doing, try to relax, and become calm again. 'Stress' means pressure or tension. It is one of the most common causes of health problems in modern life. Too much stress results in physical, emotional, and mental health problems.

There are numerous physical effects of stress. Stress can affect the heart. It can increase the pulse rate, make the heart miss beats, and can cause high blood pressure. Stress can affect the respiratory system. It can lead to asthma. It can cause a person to breathe too fast, resulting in a loss of important carbon dioxide. Stress can affect the stomach. It can cause stomach aches and problems digesting food.

Emotions are also easily affected by stress. People suffering from stress often feel anxious. They may have panic attacks. They may feel tired all the time. When people are under stress, they often overreact to little problems.

Long-term stress can lead to a variety of serious mental illnesses. Depression can be the result of continued and increasing stress. Addiction also is a way to try to relieve stress. Eating disorders are sometimes caused by stress and are often made worse by stress. If stress is allowed to continue, then one's mental health is put at risk.

22. Read the following passage, then choose the correct answer

Airplanes have the reputation of being dangerous and even hardened travelers are intimidated by them. They also have the serious disadvantage of being the most expensive form of transport but nothing can match them for speed and comfort, traveling at a height of 30,000 feet, far above the clouds, and at over 500 miles an hour is an exhilarating experience. You do not have to devise ways of taking your mind off the journey, for an airplane gets you to your destination rapidly.

For a few hours, you settle back in a deep armchair to enjoy the flight. The real escapist can watch a free film show and sip a hot or cold drink. But even when such refreshments are not available, there is plenty to keep you occupied. An airplane offers you an unusual breathtaking view of the world. You soar effortlessly over high mountains and deep valleys. You really see the shape of the land.

If the landscape is hidden from view, you can enjoy the extraordinary sight of unbroken clouds, plains stretching out for miles before you as the sun shines brilliantly in a clear sky. The journey is so smooth that there's nothing to prevent you from reading or sleeping. However you decide to spend your time, one thing is certain: you will arrive at your destination fresh and uncrumpled. You won't have to spend the next few days recovering from a long and tiring journey.

23. Read the following passage, then choose the correct answer

Along with jogging and swimming, cycling is one of the best all-round forms of exercise. It can help to increase your strength and energy, giving you more efficient muscles and a stronger heart. But increasing your strength is not the only advantage of cycling. Because you're not carrying the weight of your body on your feet, it's a good form of exercise for people with painful feet or backs. However, it's important to start slowly and build up gently. Doing too much too quickly can damage muscles that aren't used to working. If you have any doubts about taking up cycling for health reasons, talk to your doctor and ask for his/her advice.

Ideally you should be cycling at least two or three times a week. For the exercise to be doing you good, you should get a little out of breath. Don't worry that if you begin to lose your breath, it could be dangerous and there must be something wrong with your heart. This is simply not true; shortness of breath shows that the exercise is having the right effect. However, if you find you are in pain then you should stop and take a rest.

To conclude, cycling has become even more important in recent times. While it has been offering us many advantages for a long time, it is very vital now. It is because of the rate at which pollution is growing in the world, it offers a greener way to commute.

Choose the correct answer from a, b, c or d

   - Ⓑ it helps to make their backs become stronger
   - Ⓒ it enables them to carry the weight of their body on their feet
   - Ⓓ it does not make them carry the weight of their body on their feet
8. You should not worry about the shortness of breath because .....
   - Ⓐ it is a sign of exercise having the right effect
   - Ⓑ it shows that you should stop and take a rest
   - Ⓒ it shows that there is something wrong with your heart
   - Ⓓ it is a sign of you're getting rid of your heart problem

24. Read the following passage, then choose the correct answer

Before mobile phones and computers, written letters were one of the most basic forms of communication to convey thoughts, ideas and to answer queries. The method of sending letters improved a lot over the years. Around the fourth millennium, cuneiform script was written on stone or clay tablets with a reed. For over 35 centuries, this method of writing and communicating was applied. This has been replaced during the Roman Era with alphabetic writing.

Pigeon post is the use of homing pigeons as messengers. Pigeons have an excellent sense of direction and can easily find their way. After composing the message in little scraps of paper they tied them to the bird's leg. Up to the present time, pigeon posts continue to be useful in the most remote places where electricity and Internet are unavailable. This method was also used in the military and navy to convey news and orders from one post to another.

Nowadays, there are a lot of procedures on how to send a letter or a package to any part of the world. Among the popular options is the postal service. Shipping fees vary according to the size, weight, the contents of your letter or package and its destination.

If you only need to send a letter faster, the Internet is always available and can provide different options. Emailing is a method of sending a letter virtually and the recipient can immediately receive it in a matter of seconds or minutes.

   - Ⓓ Informing the readers of what happened in the 4th millennium.

25. Read the following passage, then choose the correct answer

Countries of the world rely heavily on petroleum, coal and natural gas for their energy sources. There are two major types of energy sources: renewable and non-renewable. Fossil fuels are non-renewable sources of energy. Reliance on them poses big problems. First, fossil fuels such as oil, coal, gas etc. are finite energy resources and the world eventually will run out of them. Secondly, they will become too expensive and too damaging to the environment. Thirdly, fossil fuels have direct polluting impacts on earth's environment causing global warming. In contrast, renewable energy sources such as wind and solar energy are constantly replenished and never run out. Most renewable energy comes either directly or indirectly from the sun. Solar energy can be used for heating and lighting homes, for generating electricity and for other uses.

The sun's heat drives the wind and this wind energy can be captured with wind turbines to produce electricity. Then the wind and the sun's heat cause water to evaporate which turns into rain or snow and flows downhill into rivers, its energy can be captured as hydroelectric energy. Along with the rain and snow, sunlight causes plants to grow. Plants produce biomass which again can be turned into fuels such as firewood identified as bio-energy.

Our earth's interior contains molten lava with tremendous heat. This heat inside the earth produces steam and hot water which can be tapped as geothermal energy to produce electricity, for heating home etc.

Choose the correct answer from a, b, or d

1. It's expected that fossil fuels will go into ..... within the next decades.

6. Which of the following is true about the lava inside earth?
   Ⓐ It retains no power Ⓑ It is severely cold
   Ⓒ It is not so much hot Ⓓ It is extremely hot
7. Burning fossil fuels .....
   Ⓐ is favourable for our happy life in the world
   Ⓑ is causing irreparable damage to our environment
   Ⓒ does not create any problem for us
   Ⓓ is not likely to lead us towards a crisis
8. What is the main purpose of the author of this passage?
   Ⓐ To show the positive things of non-renewable energy sources.
   Ⓑ To show the destructive aspects of renewable energy sources
   Ⓒ To present various renewable and nonrenewable energy sources
   Ⓓ To show the best aspects of renewable energy sources in contrast with nonrenewable energy sources

26. Read the following passage, then choose the correct answer

Happiness is not something far away and unattainable. Happiness does not depend on circumstances or objects. We all seek happiness but very few get it. We are unhappy partly because we desire much more than what we can hope to attain. Our countless desires are hard to be satisfied. And that is what makes us so sad in life. The secret of happiness lies in the simplification of life. Simple living encourages high thinking. It leads to contentment. Contentment gives us inner wealth.

A man, who wants to lead a happy life, should also make others happy. In making others happy he will taste real and lasting happiness. There is a kind of joy in serving others, in sacrificing what one has for the good of others.

Wealth may give us joy for a while and fame may provide us with fleeting excitement. But they cannot give us permanent happiness. Kings have everything to make them happy and yet they feel unhappy. There is a sense of joy in doing one's work honestly and efficiently. This makes one feel peace of mind which is an important essence of happiness.

Happiness is like the sun, it is often hidden by the clouds of thoughts, worries and desires. We have to scatter and dissolve them to experience happiness. You don't have to create happiness. All you have to do is calm your mind, because when there is a quiet mind and inner peace, there is happiness.

   - Ⓑ Wealth and fame give us temporary happiness.
   - Ⓒ A lot of desires make us unhappy.
   - Ⓓ Making others happy makes one happy.

27. Read the following passage, then choose the correct answer

When you enter the supermarkets, you see shelves full of food. You walk in the aisles between the shelves. You push a shopping cart and put your food in it.

You probably hear soft, slow music as you walk along the aisles. If you hear fast music, you walk quickly. The supermarket plays slow music to walk slowly and have more time to buy things.

Maybe you go to the meat department first. There is some meat on sale, and you want to find it. The manager of the supermarket knows where customers enter the meat department. The cheaper meat is at the other end of the meat department, away from where the customers enter. You have to walk by all the expensive meat before you find the cheaper meat. Maybe you will buy some of the expensive meat instead of the meat on sale.

The dairy department sells milk and milk products such as butter and cheese. Many customers like milk that has only little butterfat in it. One store has three different containers of low fat milk. One says '1% fat' on the container. The second says '99 percent (99%) fat free'. The third says 'Low fat' in big letters and 1% in small letters. As you can see, all the milk has the same amount of fat. The milk is all the same. The amount of milk in each container is also the same. However, in this store they cost three different amounts of money. Maybe the customers will buy the milk that costs the most.

Choose the correct answer from a, b, c or d

   - Ⓐ The cheaper meat is put near the entrance
   - Ⓑ Customers walk between aisles inside the supermarket
   - Ⓒ The prices are labeled on the products.
   - Ⓓ There is soft music played.
8. What is the main idea of this passage?
   - Ⓐ How different kinds of food are arranged in supermarkets.
   - Ⓑ Soft, slow music makes people buy more in supermarkets.
   - Ⓒ The supermarket is designed to make you buy things.
   - Ⓓ Be sure not to be deceived in supermarkets.

28. Read the following passage, then choose the correct answer

Conversation is indeed the most easily teachable of all arts. All you need to do to become a good conversationalist is to find a subject that interests you and your listeners. There are numberless hobbies to talk about. But the important thing is that you must talk about other fellow's hobby rather than your own. Therein lies the secret of your popularity. Talk to your friends about the things that interest them, and you will get a reputation for good fellowship, charming wit, and a brilliant mind. There is nothing that pleases people so much as your interest in their interest.

It is just as important to know what subjects to avoid and what subjects to select for good conversation. If you don't want to be set down as a wet blanket or a bore, be careful to avoid unpleasant subjects. Avoid talking about yourself, unless you are asked to do so. People are interested in their own problems not in yours. Sickness or death bores everybody. The only one who willingly listens to such talk is the doctor, but he gets paid for it.

To be a good conversationalist you must know not only what to say, but how also to say it. Be mentally quick and witty. But don't hurt others with your wit. Finally try to avoid mannerism in your conversation. Don't bite your lips or click your tongue, or roll your eyes or use your hands excessively as you speak.

Choose the correct answer from a, b, c or d

   - Ⓑ tell a story
   - Ⓒ explain facts
   - Ⓓ free our hands
3. According to the passage, the doctor listens to your talk as .....
   - Ⓐ he is curious
   - Ⓑ it relieves his troubles
   - Ⓒ It's part of his job
   - Ⓓ he needs experience
4. A successful conversation depends on .....
   - Ⓐ our wit
   - Ⓑ choosing the subject
   - Ⓒ mannerism
   - Ⓓ rolling eyes
5. We infer that, people get excited when others .....
   - Ⓐ leave them alone
   - Ⓑ bite lips
   - Ⓒ mind their own interest
   - Ⓓ care for them
6. The author tells us to, while with others, avoid .....
   - Ⓐ pleasant subjects

7. According to the passage, people need to .....
   - Ⓐ be listened rather than listen
   - Ⓑ stop talking about their problems
   - Ⓒ talk about their achievements
   - Ⓓ share their sickness with their doctors
8. Which of the following is correct, according to the passage?
   - Ⓐ It's unnecessary to listen to others' worries
   - Ⓑ A doctor listens to their patients for free
   - Ⓒ It's important to know how to say something
   - Ⓓ Click your tongue when speaking to others

29. Read the following passage, then choose the correct answer

Jennifer was thinking in her room. She wanted a shelter there since false gossip about her began circulating at the academy last week. Not that Jennifer had ever been considered a social butterfly. She preferred to live indirectly through the stories of her more unashamed friends: late night celebrating, associating with girls, childish tricks. Still, she had taken to be more by herself than usual since the accusations surfaced and that thing made her on thin ice. She was up for consideration for the highly popular Blauvelt Award, a scholarship recognizing "academic integrity and promise." A student had given headmaster Jack an anonymous "tip" that Jennifer had cheated on several tests. The accusations were laughable. Jennifer had long been a clever student at the academy. She lacked a natural intelligence—this was true. However, she compensated for this shortage through carefulness and insistence; she was very thorough in her studies and exhibited an almost relentless determination. Still, the accusations had given the recommendation committee pause. On Friday Jennifer had been called to Mr. Jack's grand office, where she was asked copious questions about her recent exams. The experience was quite shocking. It was an elite school. Most of its students came from honored backgrounds. This was not the case for Jennifer. Her family had little money. She attended the school on a full scholarship. The Award would help her family pay for college. So, it was with the same diligence which she applied to her studies that Jennifer planned to reveal her accuser.

30. Read the following passage, then choose the correct answer

Studies show that if large groups of children watch violent programmes, they will behave more aggressively. Especially during teenage years, viewing lots of violence on television is associated with actual increases in aggression against others. It is little wonder that a large group of medical experts recently concluded that media violence is a serious threat to public health.

It is fair to say, then, that violence programmes cause aggression in viewers, especially children. They can make aggression more likely, but it doesn't invariably "cause" it to occur for any child. Many other factors affect the chances that unpleasant thoughts will be turned into actions. Among children, one such factor is the extent to which a child identifies with aggressive characters. That's why it is so sad to find TV heroes behaving aggressively, as well as villains.

Children who believe that aggression is an acceptable way to solve problems, who believe that TV violence is realistic, and who identify with TV characters are more likely to copy television aggression. In view of such findings; it is understandable that many countries have restricted the amount of violence on television. Should all countries do the same?

Choose the correct answer from a, b, c or d

   - Ⓒ factual
   - Ⓓ actual
4. The underlined pronoun they refer to .....
   - Ⓐ children
   - Ⓑ viewers
   - Ⓒ media violence
   - Ⓓ violence programmes
5. What solution do you suggest best help with controlling children's aggression?
   - Ⓐ punishing a bully in front of them.
   - Ⓑ showing much cartoon on TV.
   - Ⓒ giving rewards for good deeds.
   - Ⓓ identifying aggressive characters.
6. What reason supports the sadness the writer feels?
   - Ⓐ children's heroes give bad examples.
   - Ⓑ Countries must control violence.
   - Ⓒ violence is a threat to public health.
   - Ⓓ children watch too much violence on TV.
7. Which of the following best summarizes the second paragraph?
   - Ⓐ Once children see violence they copy it.
   - Ⓑ unpleasant thoughts make us more aggressive.
   - Ⓒ TV characters affect children's behaviours.
   - Ⓓ most villains are hateful to children.
8. The last paragraph concludes that .....
   - Ⓐ Children are violent by nature.
   - Ⓑ Violence on TV has less effect on children.
   - Ⓒ Aggression is an acceptable way to solve problems.

Instagram is an online photo-sharing and social networking service that enables its users to take pictures, apply digital filters to it, and share them on a variety of social networking services. Such media sites include Facebook or Twitter.

Instagram was created in October, 2010. The service rapidly gained popularity. In April 2012, it was announced that over 30 million accounts were set up on the social network. Recently made headlines with its efforts to keep the "Insta-universe" as a positive space and has prohibited any hashtags or photographs that promote self-harm. There are basic Terms of Use that Services. By May 2012, 58 photographs were being uploaded and a new user was being gained each second. The total number of photographs uploaded had exceeded one billion. In my opinion, Instagram is a refuge for all of young adults who want to run away from the adults taking over Facebook.

Either way which ever you choose they are both a fun and new way to interact and communicate with old friends and family and to make new friends from all around the world. If I had to choose one I would pick Instagram. People are nicer here and it is a lot less drama, I mean have you ever heard of a couple breaking up over Instagram? I did not think so. But Facebook was my first love, and who can forget their first love.

32. Read the following passage, then choose the correct answer

In English, the phrase 'black sheep of the family' is used to describe someone who doesn't live his or her life the way the rest of the family expects them to. People like this must be common, because many other languages, mostly European, have exactly the same idiom. Other languages, like Russian, talk about someone being a 'white crow' (crows being birds that are nearly always black). Real black sheep are rather rare. From a farmer's point of view, black wool couldn't be changed into different colours, so it was seen as worthless. As a result, farmers used to be disappointed when, by chance, their white sheep sometimes had a baby with black wool. So if a family had a black sheep, it was definitely thought to be something undesirable.

Nowadays, though, the phrase has lost some of its negative meaning. This is probably because people don't worry as much as they used to if someone is a bit different from normal. In fact, some people even think of it as an advantage: it means that the person has a more exciting life than most others, who just follow the rules and don't take risks.

Choose the correct answer from a, b, c or d

33. Read the following passage, then choose the correct answer

Bullying is when someone keeps saying or doing things to have power over you. This includes calling you stupid names, saying nasty things about you, leaving you out of activities, not talking to you, threatening, making you feel uncomfortable or scared, taking or damaging your things, hitting or kicking you, or even making you do things you don't want to do. Moreover, you can also be bullied by someone's lack of attention or reaction. It is estimated that about 20% of all students are bullied in school at any time, and about half have experienced bullying at some points before. Bullied students can feel unhappy, afraid, uncomfortable, depressed, hurt and alone. Therefore, many of them begin to perform poorly in academic work. Some end up dropping out of school. They may suffer depression and anxiety. They suffer eating and sleep disorders and lose interest in activities they used to enjoy.

Cyber-bullying now occurs through cell phone texting, instant messaging, blogging and social networking sites. Children must be made aware that they should tell a responsible adult.

The culture of a school or a community can affect the degree of bullying that is happening. If a school can institute a program that significantly reduces bullying, the bullying does not seem to be displaced to other settings outside of school.

   - Ⓒ The school can prevent bullies from coming to school.
   - Ⓓ The school can move bullying outside it.

34. Read the following passage, then choose the correct answer

People like to be well-dressed, but rarely ask themselves what the clothes they are wearing are made from. In fact, thousands of animals are killed every day so that rich people can enjoy wearing the most fashionable and trendiest clothes. Some animals, such as mice and other animals are experimented upon by scientists working for companies involved in the manufacture of shampoos that we use, to keep our hair clean and to look good. We even kill whales, whose oil is used to make expensive soaps or make up. Other animals, like the arctic fox, are killed for their fur which is used in manufacturing expensive coats. Elephants are killed for their ivory, which is made into jewellery. Crocodiles are killed for their skin, which is used to make shoes. Often these animals are treated with great cruelty. Some of them are in danger of becoming extinct. Individual people and organizations are working to protect these animals. The first step in this direction was taken when the Royal Society for the prevention of Cruelty to Animals (RSPCA) was established all over world. The RSPCA calls on governments to set up nature reserves to protect such animals. It is illegal to kill any animal on these reserves. Meanwhile, strict action has been taken against illegal hunting ever it occurs in the world. The RSPCA also asks people to stop buying and wearing products from endangered animals. If we continue killing these animals, we will surely destroy our wildlife environment balance of nature as well.

   - Ⓒ The benefit from animals
   - Ⓓ Killing rare animals.

35. Read the following passage, then choose the correct answer

It is bad to have food stuck between your teeth for long time as food attracts germs which produce acid, and acid hurts your teeth. Flossing helps to remove this food. This explains why flossing helps to keep your mouth healthy, but some doctors say that flossing can be also good for your heart.

It may seem strange that something you do for your teeth can have an effect on your heart. Doctors have some ideas about how flossing works to keep your heart healthy.

One idea is that the germs that hurt your teeth can travel into blood and attack your heart. Another idea is that when there are too many germs in your mouth, the body tries to fight them, and the way the body fights these germs may weaken the heart.

Not every doctor agrees about these ideas. Some doctors think that the link between good flossing habits and good heart health is only coincidence. A coincidence is the occurrence of two or more things at one time apparently by mere chance. For example, every time I wash my car, it rains. This doesn't mean that when I wash my car, it rains. Likewise, some doctors think that people who have bad flossing habits may have heart problems, and people who have good flossing habits may have healthy hearts.

The theory that flossing your teeth helps to keep your body healthy might not be true. But every doctor agrees that flossing is a great way to keep your teeth healthy. So even if flossing doesn't help your heart, it is sure to help your teeth.

Choose the correct answer from a, b, c or d

1. Flossing effectively helps to keep your mouth healthy by preventing.....
   - Ⓐ germs from producing acid.
   - Ⓑ germs from entering your lungs.
   - Ⓒ food from entering your body.

دور أول علمى 2021

What sort of food are we likely to be eating in the year 2030? Most people either say: "There won't be any left." or "Whatever it is, there won't be much taste in it." Of course there are good reasons for being pessimistic about the world's food supplies in the future.

Nevertheless, not all experts share the general despondency. For one thing, although the world's population is rising fast, food production is keeping pace with it, even in developing countries. It's therefore the main reason why people are hungry isn't that there is a food shortage, but that methods of cultivation aren't sufficiently advanced and the food isn't fairly distributed to all those that need it.

Moreover in most industrialized countries, one important cause of trouble is conservative preference for meat. Animals are fed with grain to produce high-quality beef, though the grain would feed humans.

By the time our grandchildren have grown up, it seems likely that many of these problems will have resolved. Scientists are already capable of constructing steaks from vegetable ingredients like Soya beans. However, skeptical we may be about their claim that they can produce the substance, taste and colour of meat by these means, the fact is that the most common complaint about such "steaks" is that we will no doubt have discovered a way of including artificial bones, skin and fat!

Choose the correct answer from a, b, c or d

1. There won't be food shortage in the future if the food is .....
   - Ⓐ fairly distributed
   - Ⓑ unfairly distributed
   - Ⓒ of high quality
   - Ⓓ of low quality
2. The problem of food can be solved if we .....
   - Ⓐ use the internet and mass media.
   - Ⓑ use more water from the sea.
   - Ⓒ use advanced methods of cultivation.
   - Ⓓ purify the river water.
3. We feed animals on grain to produce .....
   - Ⓐ high quantity beef
   - Ⓑ skin and vegetables
   - Ⓒ fat and food supplies
   - Ⓓ high quality beef
4. According to the passage, using vegetable ingredients is one of the methods to overcome the shortage of .....
   - Ⓐ protein
   - Ⓑ fats
   - Ⓒ vitamins
   - Ⓓ calcium
5. According to the passage, food production is growing ..... the population.
   - Ⓐ as slow as
   - Ⓑ as fast as
   - Ⓒ faster than
   - Ⓓ slower than
6. According to the passage, our diet may be ..... in the future.
   - Ⓐ the same
   - Ⓑ difficult
   - Ⓒ different
   - Ⓓ traditional
7. The main idea of the passage is .....
   - Ⓐ the advantages of eating soya beans.
   - Ⓑ population increasing all over the world.
   - Ⓒ the distribution of food.
   - Ⓓ the causes of food shortage and its solutions.
8. Which sentence of the following can best summarise the last paragraph?
   - Ⓐ Soya beans can change the taste of meat.
   - Ⓑ Beans, fats and skin.
   - Ⓒ Soya beans as a replacement of meat.
   - Ⓓ Soya beans, steak and food ingredients.

دور أول أدبى 2021

It is thought that tigers and sharks are dangerous animals. People have been scared of them because they are enormous. Now, we learn that the most dangerous animals are the smallest ones. The animal that killed most people every year is one that you have probably killed yourself many times: the mosquito. While it may seem that all mosquitoes are biters, male mosquitoes eat plant nectar but female mosquitoes feed on animal blood. They need this blood to live and produce eggs.

When a female mosquito bites a person, it transmits a small amount of salvia into the blood. This salvia may or may not contain a deadly disease. The result of the bite can be as minor as an itchy bump or as serious as death. Because a mosquito can bite many people, it can carry diseases from one person to another very easily. The most deadly diseases carried by mosquitoes are malaria and yellow fever. About 700 million people become sick from these diseases every year. At least 2 million of them die.

Many scientists are working on safer and better ways to kill mosquitoes but so far, there is no sure way for protection from their deadly bites. Mosquito nets can be placed over beds to protect people against being bitten. They help people stay safe at night, but they do not kill any mosquitoes. Mosquitoes have many natural enemies like bats, birds, dragonflies. Bringing these animals into places where mosquitoes live might help to cut down the amount of mosquitoes in that area. This is a natural solution, but it does not always work very well. Mosquitoes can also be killed with poisons or sprays which may also harm other plants or animals.

Choose the correct answer from a, b, c or d

1. Dragon flies might reduce the number of flies in a given area because dragon flies will .....
   - Ⓐ Work together with mosquitoes
   - Ⓑ Kill mosquitoes
   - Ⓒ Cannot be killed by poisons or sprays
   - Ⓓ Attract bats
2. Which of the following best summarizes the information in paragraph 2?
   - Ⓐ Poisons and sprays provide adequate protection from deadly mosquitoes.
   - Ⓑ There is no perfect solution to the mosquito problems
   - Ⓒ Mosquitoes nets provide adequate protection from deadly mosquitoes.
   - Ⓓ The introduction of the mosquito's natural enemies provides protection from mosquitoes
3. Which of the following in NOT correct?
   - Ⓐ male mosquitoes are harmless to humans
   - Ⓑ female mosquitoes are responsible for transmitting disease to humans
   - Ⓒ female mosquitoes and male mosquitoes have different eating habits
   - Ⓓ male mosquitoes are responsible for transmitting diseases to humans
4. The underlined word "minor" nearly means .....
   - Ⓐ deadly
   - Ⓑ frustrating
   - Ⓒ insignificant
   - Ⓓ dangerous
5. Which of the following words best describes the author's overall attitude towards the prospect of solving the mosquitoes problems?
   - Ⓐ annoyed and puzzled
   - Ⓑ confusing and doubtful
   - Ⓒ optimistic and ambitious
   - Ⓓ disappointed and pessimistic

6. The passage is mainly about " ....."

Ⓐ Tigers and sharks Ⓑ Harmless mosquitoes Ⓒ Deadly diseases Ⓓ Dangerous animals

7. According to the passage, if you get sick with malaria or yellow fever, your chances of survival are .....

Ⓐ probable Ⓑ terrible Ⓒ impossible Ⓓ excellent

8. According to the author, some people are more afraid of tigers and sharks than mosquitoes because tigers and sharks .....

Ⓐ kill more people than mosquitoes Ⓑ are big and powerful

Ⓒ are found all over the world Ⓓ have no natural enemies

In 1911, Charlie Chaplin, a penniless music-hall artist, left England for America. His future was uncertain, but he believed it couldn't be unhappier than his past. He had grown up in the slums of London. His mother's life was hard and got mad. His father died of drink. His parents hoped to be stars. Their son was determined to succeed where they had failed.

By 1914, Chaplin was famous in America. He was the king of silent movies. How did he reach the top of the film world? He began to develop the character of the tramp that is connected with his name. He borrowed ideas from many sources. He used his bowler hat to signal secret messages and his walking stick allowed him to cause confusion and punish his enemy from a distance. He got the ideas of his famous flatfooted walk from a London taxi driver who had feet.

Inside the tramp's clothes, the audience saw a human being who was poor, but dreamt of being rich. The audience would be moved by this, but before they had time to reach for their handkerchiefs, Charlie's feet would get in the way and make them laugh instead. Charlie was the master of mime and as an acrobat; he used to perform dangerous stunts. In 1919, he formed his film company and wanted to write about his experiences. In "The Kid", Chaplin remembered his fear and unhappiness when separated from his mother. On a visit to Britain, the American government refused to give him a re-entry visa and he stayed in Switzerland. Aged 86, he went to Buckingham to be knighted by the queen.

Choose the correct answer from a, b, c or d

دور ثاني 2022

The computer as well as the chainsaw is powerful tools. They are of great help. If the chainsaw is misused, the person operating it might find himself missing a finger. But if the computer is misused, it may lead to disasters. With it, teachers can enhance the classroom experience in a variety of ways. But while the misuse of the computer will probably not result in lost limbs like in chainsaw, there are other dangers that must be considered when computers are brought into a classroom.

To investigate the way technology is currently being used in our schools, I recently spoke with Mrs. Abeer, who informed me that computers, which are introduced into her classroom, have helped to increase students' motivation and prepare them for life in a technological society. "These kids are probably going to be using some advanced computer programs when they graduate from high school," she noted. "It's important that we provide a proper introduction about them in the classroom." She also observed that the computers have made it easier to promote interdisciplinary learning, so that students can work on a project or topic that relates to more than one subject faster.

With all of these benefits, come a few drawbacks. Mrs. Abeer also added that some teachers think that using computers in the educational process is useless and others use them in a way that makes students get easily distracted by the many temptations of the internet, and that many students are quite adept at making it look as if they are doing class work when they are really checking their emails or watching videos.

While surfing educational websites, video games may make students lose their concentration. These diversions are rather benign in comparison to the other things hiding in the corners of the World Wide Web.

Choose the correct answer from a, b, c or d

1. This passage is mainly about the.....
   - Ⓐ importance of chainsaw
   - Ⓑ pros and cons of computers
   - Ⓒ pros of chainsaw
   - Ⓓ cons of computers
2. People use some.....like a chainsaw to accomplish their work.
   - Ⓐ devices
   - Ⓑ systems
   - Ⓒ methods
   - Ⓓ tools
3. The improper use of computer can cause.....results in comparison to the chainsaw.
   - Ⓐ disastrous
   - Ⓑ greedy
   - Ⓒ favourable
   - Ⓓ acceptable
4. While surfing the internet for studying, students could be.....by video games.
   - Ⓐ concentrated
   - Ⓑ addicted
   - Ⓒ distracted
   - Ⓓ focused
5. Some students are experts at violating the classroom rules by.....
   - Ⓐ surfing educational websites
   - Ⓑ checking their emails
   - Ⓒ working on a project
   - Ⓓ using advanced programs
6. Although using modern technology may cause some demerits, we will.....
   - Ⓐ try to find other alternatives
   - Ⓑ stop using it
   - Ⓒ claim it is dangerous
   - Ⓓ never do without it
7. According to the passage, the ways that teachers apply to encourage students to use the internet.....
   - Ⓐ vary from one school to another
   - Ⓑ are the same at all schools
   - Ⓒ hinder students' understanding
   - Ⓓ can protect students
8. Unless students were aware of the dark sides in the World Wild Web, they would.....
   - Ⓐ be successful
   - Ⓑ suffer a lot
   - Ⓒ achieve their goals
   - Ⓓ lead a comfortable life

دور أول 2023

Once upon a time, there was a boy who became bored when he watched over his village sheep grazing on the hillside. To entertain himself, he shouted, "Wolf! Wolf! The wolf is chasing the sheep!"

When the villagers heard the cry, they came running up the hill to drive the wolf away. But, when they arrived, they saw no wolf. The boy was amused when he saw their angry faces.

"Don't scream wolf, boy," warned the villagers, "when there is no wolf!" They angrily went back down the hill.

Later, the little sheep herder cried out once again, "Wolf! Wolf! The wolf is chasing the sheep!" To his amusement, he looked on as the villagers came running up the hill to scare the wolf away.

As they saw there was no wolf. They said strictly, "Save your frightened cry for when there is a real wolf! Don't cry 'Wolf' when there is no wolf!" But the boy grinned at their words while they walked grumbling down the hill once more.

After a while, the boy saw a real wolf sneaking around his flock. Alarmed, he jumped on his feet and cried out as loud as he could, "Wolf! Wolf!" But the villagers thought he was fooling them again, and so they didn't come to help.

At sunset, the villagers went looking for the boy who hadn't returned with their sheep. When they went up the hill, they found him weeping. "There really was a wolf here! The flock's gone! I cried out, 'Wolf!' but you didn't come," he wailed.

دور أول 2023

Asthma has a long history of evolution before it was categorically defined. The earliest mention of respiratory distress and wheezing was found in 2600 BC in China. It was treated by herbs till the 1950s when some tablets and adrenaline injections were invented.

Asthma is an inflammatory disease of the airways of the lungs. It is characterized by variable and recurring symptoms, reversible airflow obstruction with normal temperatures. It is one of the most common diseases of children, but adults can have asthma, too. Asthma causes wheezing, breathlessness, chest tightness and coughing at night or early in the morning.

Genetic, environmental and occupational factors are main causes for asthma. If you have asthma, you will suffer from it all the time. You will have asthma attacks only when something bothers your lungs. The attack happens in your body's airways, which are the paths that carry air to your lungs. As the air moves through your lungs, the airways become smaller. During an asthma attack, less air gets in and out of your lungs.

People can control asthma by avoiding some things that may lead to it or what we can call "asthma triggers". They are different from someone to another, but there are some common ones as tobacco smoke, dust mites, outdoor air pollution, pets, mold, smoke from burning wood or grass, and infections like flu. Asthma can be treated by breathing some medicines or taking some pills according to the doctor's advice. The effect of these two ways of medication can be either to have a quick-relief control to ease the symptoms of an asthma attack or to have a long control to have fewer and milder attacks.

دور ثاني 2023

One day, before sleeping early to go to school, I was reading an exciting story about the sea world. I meditated and said, "Why don't we have an adventure like that?" So immediately, I phoned my friends and arranged to rent a boat and sail in the ocean. Some of my friends agreed, but the others refused as the weather was predicted. Those of my friends who accepted were very enthusiastic. On a very cold morning, we set off taking all our needs with us. We sailed for a long time without any troubles. But suddenly, everything turned upside down when the strong waves were near us. One of my companions advised us to go back to the beach quickly, but it was too late. How could we react in such a serious situation?

I suggested sailing quietly till the waves calm down; others suggested sailing quickly to get out of this area. We tried hard to use the radio to call the emergency, but there was no signal. Unfortunately, one of my companions fell into water and we couldn't save him. I felt something worse would happen and sadness overwhelmed all of us. Suddenly, the ship was hit by a huge shark. After a long time of struggling, the shark moved away. Little hope began to appear on the horizon when we heard the sound of a helicopter. We waved a lot, but they couldn't see us. Eventually, we found some sailors on a ship who succeeded in getting us out of that serious situation.

There are more than thirty combinations of coffee types in the world. Although most people drink coffee every day, but few who are interested in answering the following question, "is coffee good or bad for our health?" Early studies showed that coffee is bad for our health.

However, recent studies have provided strong evidence that it is good for our health in many ways. In the past, scientists linked drinking coffee with heart diseases. Some scientists mentioned that the problem in drinking coffee was in the average of caffeine that it contained.

Up to 400 milligrams of caffeine a day, three cups of coffee, appeared to be safe for most healthy people. While other scientists proved that the genes had a major influence on your tolerance to it. Some can consume much more caffeine than others without experiencing negative effects.

Although caffeine is usually safe for adults, it isn't safe for children. Adolescents and pregnant women need to be cautioned about excessive use of caffeine. However, it is addictive and may result in many side effects when you increase drinking coffee such as headache, insomnia, nervousness, irritability and fast heartbeat. It can also affect your sleep badly.

Coffee is well known as an instant energy booster. It helps people fight drowsiness. People who like drinking coffee will be delighted to know that it has many benefits. Some modern studies show that coffee drinkers often live longer. They are less likely to get type 2 diabetes as it balances blood sugar. They also have liver enzyme levels within a healthy range and stronger DNA. They are less possible to get colon cancer and Alzheimer.
